Singer's Sewing Machines.

PERSONS who design to obtain full and correct information respecting SINGER'S SEWING MACHINES—their price, capabilities, sizes, improvements, mode of working, and of procuring them, and all other particulars can do so by applying at our office,

323 Broadway, New York,

by letter or in person, for

I. M. SINGER & CO'S GAZETTE.

This paper is devoted entirely to the Sewing Machine interest. Copies will be supplied gratis as desired.

N. B.—The unparalleled success of our Sewing Machines has induced several fraudulent imitations to appear, besides numerous infringements on our rights, of which we obtain sixteen. Suits for the infringement of our patents have recently been decided in our favor in the U. S. Circuit Courts in the City of New York and New Jersey. In these suits the principle of Hooking the Fabric to be Sewed to the Shuttle of the Machine, by a yielding pressure, was fully established. The Wheeler & Wilson, and Grover & Baker Sewing Machines, as we always allege, have distinct patents issued by us, and we shall sustain them in several of the U. S. Courts. We will soon be ready to commence suits against those who will be found to buy any infringing Machines, and to prosecute them to the full extent that can be compelled by law to stop the sale of such machines, and to pay costs and damages.

Agents wanted to make sales of our Sewing Machines. To persons properly qualified for the business, a rare opportunity for a pleasant employment is offered. Second hand and improved machines exchanged on liberal terms for old machines of every kind.

OFFICE of the Commissioner of Lotteries.—Baltimore, April 18, 1856. The Commissioners of Lotteries of the State of Maryland, being in receipt daily of letters from all parts of the country, making inquiry into schemes with which the country is flooded, and which purport to be "decided by the Grand Consolidated Lottery of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries"—this method to answer all such letters of inquiry, and inform the public that all Lotteries purporting to be decided by the Maryland Divided Lotteries are Frauds, that certain parties who call themselves Morris & Co., and pretend to be Managers or Sole Agents for the Grand Charter Lottery of Cleveland, Ohio, are impostors, and the Lottery a fraud, having neither legal or pretended existence! and that another fictitious firm of Murry & Co., Cleveland, Ohio, and all Agencies and all Lotteries which they profess to be managers or agents for, are also frauds.

RICHARD FRANCE, of this city, is the Commissioner drawing the Maryland Lotteries. The business is conducted under the firm of R. France & Co., managers, and they have no sole agents in the city of Baltimore. There are however, some Licensed Venders for the State of Maryland, whose license under him through this office, will be kept in the Maryland Lotteries.

[Copy of a Letter.]

BALTIMORE, Jan. 8, 1856.

Messrs. C. & J. Marshall—Gentlemen: At the request of your agent in Baltimore, in regard to our opinion and experience of your copper-coated spikes, we, without hesitation, say we believe them the best substitute for copper yet introduced, and better fastening for ships, inasmuch as you have the strength of iron with the preservative qualities of copper.

We have used some of your Spikes in old vessels as a substitute for copper, and have had occasion to draw them out a year afterwards; and found them with the coating as firm as when they were driven, and with no appearance of oxidation.

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed) JOHN D. FERRY & BRO.

Cheap & Convenient Building.
Door, Sash and Blind Factory.
A. DUNBAR

HAS been very successful in completing several contracts for Door Frames, Doors, Window Frames and Sashes, and Blinds, for good dwelling-houses and other buildings to be erected in this city, the coming season. He has excellent workmen in his employ, and has superior stock, so that he is now able to supply to those about to build the best articles of Door Frames, Window Frames, Sashes, and Blinds, made to any dimensions and of superior quality, either for a whole building or for a less quantity. The trouble and expense of building is very much lessened by having these articles made separately, so that the carpenters have only to put them in their place in the structure.

This business has now become so well systemized that only a small margin is left in knowing beforehand the cost of a dwelling-house, while the work is of a uniform excellent quality.

Any interested can examine specimens of the work at the factory, near the Rose Place, or at the store of M. S. Jackson, on Exchange-st., and at either place any article may be obtained on large quantities ordered.

Mr. Dunbar is also prepared to furnish Window Sash, ground and painted, and will hang them at the shortest notice.

By long experience, and by determined perseverance, the subscriber is now enabled to suit his customers both in quality and price, and so well organized is the business that no man should now think of building in the old and slow and imperfect methods.

Whig and Courier.

A Fashionable party.

Although fresh from a rural district, don't be so boorish as to think of going to a fashionable party at the old style hour of early candlelight. Exercise patience, and wait until eight o'clock, when an old farmer would deem it time to think of returning home.—Then walk around to your friends house.—All is dark, and you hurry home to assure yourself by repetusal of the perfumed note of invitation, that you have not mistaken the evening. At nine o'clock, after an hour of restless waiting, you go again, and still the house is dark. You ring to ask if Madame is expecting company; but Betsey calls to you from the basement door, anathematizing your want of manners in taking the dishes to the front door. Your question is answered, and you sneak off glad to escape without betraying your ignorance. Ten o'clock comes and with it a fit of gaping, for that is your usual hour for retiring. Again you pass in front of the house, but finding the darkness as intense as ever, you walk around a block or two. More than once you resort to this method of passing the weary minutes.

When the half hour strikes, you discover a moving of lights and a tolerable illumination of the parlor windows. Grown desperate at the long delay, and willing to be the very first of the guests, your hand is once more on the bell-pull. To your polite inquiry comes the reply, "Madame not at home."—You turn away bewildered, but recollecting that through a crevice in the parlor door you discovered indications of preparations going forward, you conclude that you are only a little too early. Curiosity gives place to surprise—you "stand around," and even get into a confab with the street watchman.—Eleven o'clock, and presently a carriage drives up. The door again opens; and the carriage inmates enter. The hour has come!

A negro, blacker than the ace of spades, takes your card, and bawls out your name as though he were announcing you the speaker in a political meeting. Madame reclines in her easy chair, opposite the parlor door, in a manner the very picture of fainting feebleness though her closed eyes to indicate a recent mountain ramble or some other violent exercise, or ——? She nods gracefully and extends the tip of her jeweled finger, and then having hoped you are well, her attention is turned to the next comer. The parlors fill, and by twelve o'clock they are a perfect jam. Dancing is not an amusement on this occasion—it has long been voted passe. Parties are given now-a-days, not for the pleasure to confer either of guest or hostess but merely to show off the number of fashionable friends one has, and how richly they dress. Stripped off verbiage, they become rarer shows of flesh and jewels—cattle fairs you may call them. On these occasions hoops, flounces and furbelows prevent you from getting nearer than six feet of your lady acquaintances. Conversation must therefore, be for the world around, as well as for the individual addressed.

Do not let the most extravagant apparel called a low-necked dress shock your provincial modesty, even though you have never seen anything like that which it reveals since you were cradled. And don't measure distances and angles of vision by the eye, or you may be tempted to conclude that through the opening of yonder bespangled dress you could on near approach, see more of human flesh than to the wearer would be agreeable; and above all, do not venture such an insinuation. Let a fashionable lady expose herself never so much to criticism she will not patiently allow her faults to be pointed out.

But what does so large company all this while? They crowd about—promenade they call it—in pairs, triplets, or even quartettes.

A complete orchestra at one end of the magnificently furnished parlors, regales them with music—whole operas at a time—and at the other is a profusely set table, where the inner wants of all are ministered to. The table constantly changes in appearance—for here the wealth and liberality of the host is to be, in an especial manner, displayed. One rich setting out would be voted mean and shabby, and so regular "courses" are instituted—a change of dishes and ornaments, at least once every half hour. Now we see the finest white porcelain, and anon that which is gilt and silvered.

The small hours are sounding, and the older folks take their leave, let us go with them. When daylight streaks the east the younger ones will whimper "Good evening," and follow suit. How small, how very small is the sum total of benefit or pleasure derived by any one from such a party. Aching head and limbs, weak eyes and an entire unfitting for any of life's sterner duties, are among the positive results; and all to be ranked among the silly senseless decotees of Fashion.—N. Y. Sun.

THE YANKEE WOMAN.—When a Yankee woman goes to ride with her children she considers it to be necessary to keep them from falling out—puts one foot on one child and the other foot on another—holds baby in one hand and carpet-bag in the other. Rises—budget in hand and change in her mouth, two minutes before the cars come to a stop.

Give her a morning call—she will peep through the side-light at the ring of the door-bell; if you are a pedler she will make her appearance and give you an answer.—If you are a minister she will slip on a pretty dress and cordially receive you into the parlor.

The Yankee woman bakes, brews and fries in the forenoon; makes the button holes in the afternoon; snatches half an hour after supper for practising on the piano; makes calls or attends lectures in the evening.

Does up the summer sewing in the winter, for the chance of doing the winter sewing in the summer.

Spends a week in the mysteries of pastry, salads and creams; and, at the last moment, makes puns, draws on gloves, and appears as hostess for a brilliant party. Never mind those colored waiters—they are only hired for show—like the chandeliers—they never performed a bit of hard labor for this party, it was all done by the Yankee lady.

How do European ladies manage?

Don't know, I happen to be a Yankee.

In the midst of the multiplicity of roasting, baking, boiling, scrubbing and polishing, the Yankee woman always manages to send the children to school with clean faces and aprons!

When Tom rushes in, pantaloons torn, she puts him to bed till they are mended.

Makes her own bonnet, and leaves her neighbors to their conjectures whether it came from Upton's or Bigelow's—also whether the cost was five dollars or fifteen.

Weans the last baby in season for the arrival of the next.

If no Irishman be handy, or money be tight, she digs out the cellar herself, and you will see the result of her economy next month, in the top flounce of a new dress.

The Yankee woman can talk; let her little body be accused of quarrelsomeness in the street, and won't she give you a call? and won't she entertain you for one hour and a half? can you get in ten words edgewise?

The Yankee woman will have her poetry in life; she will get it somewhere; if she cannot play on the piano, she will work points on the neck of her little girl's frock, or at least have the brightest tins and whitest tables in the country; most likely she will command piano, embroideries and bright tins, all three.

The Yankee woman has her thoughts about her; the Yankee woman understands cost and income, too; don't the shopman have to take down every piece of goods from his shelves, before she will decade concerning half a yard of cambric.

Does she ever offer the baker's nincpence when the price is twelve cents?

She never has to ask the milkman the amount of his quarterly bill—ten chances to one if there be any bill. The Yankee woman is good at cash; she hates bills of one kind; bills of another kind she hugs and cherishes.

PERSEVERANCE.—A young lady who had been courted by a certain gentleman to whom she was fondly attached, made proposals to marry her without the consent of her father, who at some time previous had disapproved of their union. This proposal was a great trial to a dutiful child, who had hitherto obeyed every request of that indulgent parent; on reflection, she refused her lover's proposition, but determined to ask the consent of her father the following morning at breakfast, which she put into effect; in reply he told her that when she could get as many penny postage stamps as would paper the room in which he sat, she might consider herself at liberty to be married, but not until then would he give his consent. She had first thought it next to an impossibility for her to accomplish it, but on second thoughts hit upon the right plan, by causing an advertisement to be put into the public newspapers, stating how she was situated, and requesting all those in favor of the match to notify it by sending to her address more or less

In the great contest before us we shall toil for the people and their interests. On all national questions, we shall go for that liberty and freedom guaranteed us in our glorious Constitution. We shall march up to its utmost verge on these questions, but not one hair's breadth beyond. Our influence will be given to members of Congress and the Legislature whose sentiments and principles comport with ours. Hence it follows as surely as the light follows the day, that we cannot support or sustain the men who compose this black republican party, or any way countenance their anti-democratic and seditious doctrines and teachings.—Bangor Journal.

The Fortland Argus (Nebraska Democratic,) puts the Journal on the back, and says the above language is "plain and manly." There is nothing in it but what any Nebraskal of them all would adopt, and the Argus's estimation of "good boy" as applied to the Journal evidently proceeds from a perception that the Journal managers are no ways inimical to the election of James Buchanan.

It will be seen that the "plain and manly" language above quoted by the Argus contains not a single pledge of practical action upon the pressing questions of the day. It is all unmeaning generalization—bill tail. "We shall "go for that liberty and freedom guaranteed us "in our glorious Constitution." We shall "march up to its utmost verge, but not one "hair's breadth beyond." "We shall go for "members of Congress whose principles com-"port with ours." Now, does this mean anything at all? If it does, what does it mean?—What are "our" principles? Why does the Journal constantly, and studiously avoid committing itself upon the practical details of the questions of the day, unless its real proclivities are for the sham democracy? Anybody and everybody is in favor of "that liberty and freedom guaranteed to us by our glorious Constitution." We don't know of any party that is opposed to it. But the practical question of the day is whether this "liberty and freedom" requires us to consent to the extension of slavery into national territories. The practical question is whether, in "going up to the utmost verge of the Constitution" it is the right and the duty of Congress to prohibit slavery in the territories, thus securing, all of "that liberty and freedom guaranteed to us by our glorious constitution." The slaveholders of the South and their northern allies, (now including the whole of the sham democracy,—Pierce, Douglas and Buchanan men altogether) declare that it is not within the constitutional right and duty of Congress to interfere at all in the domestic institutions of the Territories. They all repudiate the Wilmot proviso doctrine, and subscribe to the new "squatter sovereignty" creed—nay, the Southern democracy is now demanding the repudiation of even Squatter Sovereignty, and insisting that the people of the Territories themselves have no power to exclude or prohibit slavery.

Now will the Journal state clearly and explicitly whether it will stand up and support such men and such only as will go for prohibiting slavery in the territories, or for refusing admission to new slave States if it is impossible to obtain such prohibition?

If it did that, would the Argus or any other sham democratic sheet call its talk "plain and manly?" We guess not.

Time and again, we have asked the Journal to be distinct and explicit upon this and other points. Time and again we have asked whether its conductors now stand upon the Kenduskeag Straight Whig platform of 1854. But we can extract no answer

Missing Vessels.—The ship Havana, Capt. Alexander Adams, sailed from New York on the 19th January last, for Londonderry, and the ship Stephen Brown, Captain Joseph Snow, sailed the 6th of February for Havre. As neither had been reported at the latest dates from Europe, it is much feared they are lost. Franklin Emery of Hampden, was first mate of the Havana.

The Washington Star says that private advices indicate the arrival at Washington in about fifteen days of a delegation from Salt Lake City, bringing a State Constitution for Utah, on which they will ask the admission of that Territory into the Union—as a slave State, of course, polygamy included.

Godey's Lady's Book, for June appears promptly, and filled with even a greater variety than usual of interesting and profitable matter. The engravings, fashion plates, &c. of this magazine, are, it is well known, in the very highest style of art and of the most perfect finish—The line engraving of the Gipsy fortune-teller, in this number, is a perfect gem of art.

Father Hewit will deliver his third and last lecture in the Norombega Hall, this evening, at half past 7 o'clock. All who have heard his previous lectures will hear this and the ample accommodations of the Hall will give an opportunity for all others to hear his thrilling statements.

He will, by request, give, among other things, the substance of his first lecture, narrating some of his experiences while in slavery,—which was related in such a graphic manner at that time.

Many new and interesting facts will be given, and probably no one will regret hearing him, or bestowing a pittance for his relief.

Harper's Monthly for June makes its appearance in good season, through Fetridge & Co., Boston agents. The first article is an interesting account of the principal Sulpher Springs of New York, including the famous Saratoga waters—illustrated by numerous engravings. Among the the other articles is an instructive one upon the Astronomical Observations of the United States—also illustrated, and the conclusion of the able historical article upon the Rise of the Dutch Republic. "Little Dorrit" is brought down to the 23d chapter; and there is the usual excellent variety of other matter.

A Little Farak.—The London Times in enumerating some of the consequences of the late war, says in the facetious manner possible, "We may certainly say that we spent last year £36,000,000 more than we should have done but for that little freak of the Emperor Nicholas."

"At One Fell Swoop."—Under our obituary head will be found the record of a remarkable visitation of death to the family of Samuel and Sarah Gilmore of Holden, in this county. Four of their children were seized with scarlet fever on one and the same day, and within three weeks all of them were taken from this life—The father has three other children in California, but we believe there is only one left by the same mother. Those who died were of the ages of two, five, eight and eleven years respectively.

Mr John C. Young, of this city, has been chosen Surveyor of Lumber, (Penobscot measurement) in the city of Portland, by the Aldermen and Common Council of that City.

The train from the West did not arrive till 9 o'clock Saturday evening. The delay was occasioned by an accident to the up-train of the same day, which was partly thrown from the track at the Danville Junction, by a lumber car left with its load projecting over the track. We believe there was no material damage from the accident.

The Sanford did not leave Boston till Saturday evening.

One of the Kansas freemen who left winter before last in New England, and who is now under arrest by the United States troops for the crime of having refused obedience to the Border Ruffian Territorial "authorities," writes a letter to the New York Times, in which he says

I would remind the people of the acts of the President.

First, the Territory has been invaded at four different elections, and the elective franchise destroyed. At four separate times, openly in defiance and in disregard of the power of the nation, the dearest rights of freemen have been wrested from the people of Kansas, but no interposition of the United States forces then, although that was all known to the President in time to prevent it, and especially in the last three instances, yet he would not call upon a single United States soldier to execute their rights to the peaceful citizen of Kansas. The President's excuse was, "It is all beyond my power."

Again, the Territory has been invaded by warlike bands, the town of Lawrence actually besieged, and some true men of the Territory murdered, but no word of complaint goes up from the Executive Chambers. The President even refuses to assist in repelling this invading force. What word can attach sufficient disgrace to such acts?

But now, when our enemies are unable to enforce the odious laws they have made for us, the United States forces are compelled to come down from their former station, that of a soldier, and be made the tool of a petty Sheriff, or deputy,—they are ordered to arrest our citizens for no offence. When, I ask, were the United States forces needed, to prevent prostitution of the ballot-box or to enforce the enactments of this bogus Legislature?

This Government is but a slaveocracy. All its forces are used as an instrument of the slave power. If this could be so, and not affect the freedom of the Free State, it might be borne, but when the people of any one portion of the country must bow their necks under the oppressive yoke, then it is time to begin to look for some effectual means of bringing the Government back to its original state.

Irish Laborers [Treated the same as the Slave.]—A letter writer at Washington has the following remarks relative to the killing of the Irish waiter, by the Alabama Herbert.

Washington, May 11, 1856.

South of Mason and Dixon's line, society is divided into two classes, the gentlemen and the menials. The slaying of a colored servant, or an Irish servant by one of the upper class, is regarded as an unfortunate affair, but an excusable offence.

However culpable the individual, the tragedy at Willard's is rather chargeable to the state of society created by Slavery than to him. The paternity of the crime, as well as the character of the men who committed it, belongs to Slave society. Blame the institution that engenders such offences rather than the individual who commits them. The weight of the responsibility rests on the society that tolerates an institution which teaches the gratification instead of the control of the passions. The feeling of its own members that this is so, exhibits itself in the universal desire in such cases to acquit the offender. Within that ruling class to which he belongs nobody thinks of the crime, or wishes to see it avenged. The only inquiry or effort on their part is how best to secure escape from the legal responsibility of the act. A society which sustains and defends Slavery will not allow one of the ruling class to suffer for the killing of an underling, where the least provocation to the act can be shown.

In the particular case to which we refer, the man whose life has been taken is an Irish laborer. The class to which he belongs numbers in this country about half a million voters. These men will, almost without exception, go to the polls at the next election, and vote to extend a system which degrades them to the condition of serfs wherever it prevails, and under which they can be slain with impunity. Thus ignorantly do they regard their own vital interests.

Spirit of the New York Anniversaries.

[Correspondence of the Whig and Courier.]

New York, May 15, 1856.

Anniversary week proper has closed, the one remaining societies of any importance which hold meetings at present being the Old and New Presbyterians. You have been duly apprised, by the report in our daily newspapers of the sayings and doings at the various sessions, and have no doubt weeded patiently through the verbiage of Secretaries' and Treasurers' Reports. But aside from these details it may be worth while to say something of the spirit which animated the speakers and hearers and the manner in which the conflicting and sometimes obnoxious doctrines were received. The most decidedly wide-awake opinions concerning the religious meetings were the Congregational Union. This large and influential body of Christians, have, as everybody knows, taken advance grounds against the curse and sin of slavery, and most nobly maintain their position. While certain sects, which the reader may select for himself, become deaf dumb and blind whenever the black fiend rises up before them, the Congregationalists buckle on their armor, and pitch into Apollyon as heroically as did brave Christian in Bunyan's immortal dream. They are

"Creatures not too wise or good
For human nature's daily food,"

they believe that the devil is just as much a devil at home as he is in Borioboola, and that the duty of casting the beam from our own eyes is none too irksome for honest Christian. So at their anniversary here last week, they made "Church building in Kansas" a speciality, and that involved the whole Kansas Iniquity. The speeches were glorious expositions of the duty of men and Christians at the present time, and needed only the antedate of 1776 to have electrified the component for freedom.

There was a great gathering of their clergy, and a corresponding attendance of people; and much good was no doubt accomplished for the good cause. The meeting continued in session for two or three days, and would have drawn crowds for as many weeks. On the other hand, we have a different story to tell of the great American Tract Society. The expose of their mutilation of books (that they republish) which even inside party condemn slavery, and the remarkable apology for the institution, so laboriously put forth by the Rev Nehemiah Adams, one of the Publishing Committee, in his "South Side View" forced the Society to face the music of public indignation. It had been thought that an effort would be made to elect an Executive Committee having sympathy with Freedom, but the idea was abandoned after a brief canvass by the few members of the Society who actually believe in practical christianity, and the only action of any importance was the appointment of a special Committee to investigate and report upon the management of the Society and its publications. Though this report will not, probably, be made public till the next annual meeting, and then it is not anticipated that the Committee will "speak out in meeting" as strongly as they ought, yet this action created quite a stir among those members who are always "opposed to agitation" The business meeting of the Society was lively and exciting, and some of the reverend members became highly inflated. The talk was loud and angry, and for a time it was thought that an explosion must ensue, but when it was discovered that there was no opposition ticket in the field the storm rapidly subsided. It was something, however, that even the expectation of a visit from the ghost of murdered Freedom should have set this Macbeth into such a shiver.

The American Anti-Slavery Society, (the Garrisonians) was more inflammatory than ever. The resolutions they adopted were the very incarnation of anathema against "the sum of all villainies," and the speeches were of the same stamp. The weather was unpropitious, but the attendance was such as to show an increasing interest in the sayings and doings of this intensified Anti-Slavery Society. They did not make any special point upon Kansas, but ranged their batteries against the Patriarchal Institution generally.

It is interesting to those who have watched the progress of the Anti-Slavery sentiments of the country, to note, even in this city, which is given up to cotton and commerce, the different state of feeling, even in regard to this Society. While, in times gone by, crowds used to assemble at these meetings to hiss and hoot, and sometimes to disturb the proceedings by violence, the crowd now attends rather to applaud even the intensified abolitionism of Garrison. The world does move, although the cotton lords tell us it is moving in the wrong direction. While your correspondent is not prepared to adopt Mr. Garrison's views as to the best mode of removing the great curse and crime of the Nation, candor compels him to admit that it is vastly easier to cry "fanatic!" "heretic!" "lunatic!" "traitor!" than to answer satisfactorily the facts and arguments put forth on the platform of the American Anti-Slavery Society.

I do not remember that any other meeting produced more than a ripple on the ocean of public opinion. They were very orderly, conservative, moderate, mild, tame, and trod upon none of our bore toes.

The weather though beautifully summer-like to-day, for four days last week was execrable; one continuous rain came drizzling down upon the east wind. It was enough to raise consumptive symptoms in a Cape Horn sailor.

Yours always,

X.

Important Decree.—The French Emperor has just issued a decree which orders that whenever the imperial baby, the young Napoleon the Fourth, passes a company on parade, a barrack, a military post, or an estafette, the soldiers must present arms, the drums must roll and the horns toot, the same as for his Majesty himself! But the question is, how are the soldiers to know when they are in the august presence of the juvenile Majesty?

A New Heiress.—The wealthiest heiress in England at this time is Miss Jones Loyd, daughter of Lord Overstone, the banker. She has but just come out and created an immense sensation at the last "drawing room." This wealthy young lady, whose father is a peer, has an uncle in this City acting in the capacity of a salesman at Genin's Bazaar. Fun, Madam.—N. Y. Times.

Sixth District Republican Convention.

In accordance with the call of the District Committee, the Republicans, and those opposed to the present National administration, met in Convention at Columbia, May 8th, 1856.—The Convention was called to order by Ignatius Sargent, Esq. Jotham Lapincott Esq., was chosen president, and Moses Picket Secretary On motion, J. A. Milliken, W. B. Smith Esqrs. and N. K. Sawyer were appointed to receive the credentials, and report a list of delegates.

On motion P. A. Pike Esq. N. K. Sawyer, and Ignatius Sargent were appointed a Committee on resolutions.

The Convention then proceeded to the choice of three persons as Delegates to the Philadelphia Convention to be holden the 17th of June next, and Hon. Nathaniel Blake of Aroostook, C. K. P. Wallace Esq. of Washington, and Aaron P. Emerson, Esq., of Hancock, were chosen. Joseph B. Hall, of Aroostook, Ambrose Simpson of Hancock, and Edward Pearson Esq., of Washington, were chosen as substitutes.

The Committee on resolutions reported the following, viz:

Resolved, That we enter upon the coming campaign, not as sectional men, nor as espousing measures for the benefit of one portion of the country only; but as American citizens, we act for all sections, and for the people of the whole Union.

Resolved, That, the action of the present General Government in forcing the Kansas Nebraska Bill upon Congress, and in the removal of Governor Reeder, and in subsequently upholding the laws framed by the bogus territorial Legislature, and endeavoring to force them upon an unwilling people, shows unmistakably, an intention to make Kansas a slave State, and the Government having thus forced on the country, as the great question, whether Kansas shall be a free, or a slave State, in the coming election, we cordially invite all, to cooperate with us who believe Kansas should be free.

Resolved, That, although there are questions of grave importance relative to our state affairs, and the reckless conduct of the partizan majority of our last Legislature, we yet deem the National question involved in the November election of far greater importance, both for the present and the future, and while we would not overlook the one, we must on all occasions regard the other as of paramount importance.

Not Virginia Slaveholding.—Francis P. Blair having been denounced as a slaveholder, the National Era takes occasion to explain that "there is not a slave on his farm, who has not been purchased at his own solicitation, or at the request of benevolent persons, to save him from being sent to the southern market, or to prevent a family from being broken up. The money is advanced—the man or woman has the privilege of working it out—and, to prevent all risk, the freedom of every one of them is secured, by will, in any contingency, and not only freedom, but a provision for a homestead."

School-house Burned, and Suicide.—Mr. Calvin Dean, of Lincolnville, cut his throat in Freedom, during the present week. He bled profusely and is not expected to live. He acknowledged, it is said, to have burnt a schoolhouse a few days ago in Lincolnville The house was upon his land, and he had not been satisfactorily paid for it. Mr. Dean was formerly a Millerite, and in 1853 suspended all farming operations, expecting to "go up."—Belfast Free Press.

Padre Vijil, the newly recognized Minister of Nicaragua, probably does not pronounce himself Pay-dray Vidg-il, as our lummous orthography might lead them to think, but rather Pah-dray Vee-heel. Isn't it a pity that the people who made our alphabet for us did not make it fit for the purpose it professes to serve? It is, in fact, the most imperfect, awkward, bungling, expensive, old fogy kit of tools used by any trade in the nineteenth century.

By the way, if the Rev. Father had happened to be a minister on behalf of some free-labor State, our democrats would not be slow to pronounce him Father Longhael, for it is not at all unlike y he may have a drop of the African in his veins.—Boston Chronicle

The Chicago Tribune claims Illinois as sure for the anti-slavery candidate for the Presidency, and furthermore believes "that Illinois will not only give the largest majority for free Kansas, of the five Western States, but that she will poll a larger minority, in proportion to the voters, than any of the them, and we put this prediction on record, though not a prophet nor the son of a prophet. The voice of Illinois is for Col. Fremont.

The United States Supreme Court has lodged a demurrer in the Missouri slave case, in which Dredd Scott petitions for his freedom on the ground that his master had carried him to a free State. They require further evidence to show that the petitioner was a citizen of Missouri, so as to have a right to sue On this formidable technicality perhaps the venerable dispensers of justice think the poor colored man will break down. At all events they gain time, and will not, till the country is better able to bear it, have to deliver the opinion they are known to hold, and which in their inferior tribunals they have already expressed, that the slaveholder can maintain his peculiar property in the States that do not allow slavery as a State institution.

TELEGRAPHIC

FOR THE DAILY WHIG AND COURIER.

Recall of Mr. Crampton Declined.

WASHINGTON, May 15.

Mr. Clarendon's reply to Mr. Marcy's despatch announcing the recall of Mr. Crampton, was received by the Asia and was received at the State Department this morning.

It is understood to decline the recall of Mr. Crampton. The President, it is believed, intends to dismiss the Brush Minister, whose case will be commented on in the Senate by Mr. Cass on Monday.

It is generally believed rumor that Mr. Crampton was officially notified this morning by Secretary Marcy of State that the President has determined to suspend diplomatic intercourse with Great Britain, pending a settlement of the matter in dispute. No final action has been taken on that subject.

Mr. Buchanan leaves for home on Tuesday.

Death of Hon. John G. Miller, &c.

ST. LOUIS, May 15.

Hon. John G. Miller, Member of Congress from the Fifth District of Missouri, died at Jefferson City on Sunday last.

There were 95 patients in the Hospital when the building took fire, but all except one or two were saved. The building and contents, valued at $50,000, the insurance was only $36,000, were removed to the United States Hospital County Farm.

From Kansas.

ST. LOUIS, May 15.

The Missouri correspondent of the St. Louis Intelligencer writes, that Gov. Shannon has issued a requisition upon Governor Lecompton, Mo., with the papers necessary for the arrest and return of Mr. Reeder.

The Committee of Investigation are in session at Lawrence. It is understood that Governor Shannon will present a minority report when the Committee returns to Washington.

CHICAGO, May 15.

A letter from Kansas dated 9th inst., says that the Missourians having threatened to hang Reeder on the testimony of the Investigating Committee, sealed packages of the proceedings were taken in charge of that gentleman at Lexington. These despatches have not been delivered in possession of Mr. R., at Lexington, at his request, having procured a writ of habeas corpus from Judge Lecompton, and will be served upon them after his arrest.

Protest of Mr. Marcoletta.

NEW YORK, May 15.

The Tribune's correspondent at Washington says to-day—"Mr. Marcoletta is unwell, and is preparing a protest, which will be presented early next week. The foreign Ministers sympathize much sympathy with him, and generally expressed it by personal attentions. The intelligence was circulated with considerable mirth. It is said he received two of the legation, and will not be permitted to a successor, whom he regards, whatever the President may think."

Mr. Buchanan is going about the country saying that the word Ostension should not be pronounced. Why then does he breathe it?

FIRST DISTRICT CONVENTION.—The Republican and other opponents of the Nebraska bill in this district, held a District Convention at Skowhegan last Saturday last, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the National Convention of Pittsburg. The following were chosen:

For Delegates—Hon. William Willis, of Augusta; James N. Deering, of Saco; Hon. Joseph C. Adams, of Newfield.

Alternates.—George Libbey, Esq., of Portland; N. G. Marshall, Esq., of York; and Mr. Goodwin, of South Berwick.

THE TERRIBLE RAIL-ROAD DISASTER AT ASHTABULA.—The Tribune contains the following account, from an eye witness, of the accident at that place. It is dated:

ASHTABULA, May 7.—Yesterday morning, the Express from New York, who left at sixty A. M., started from this place for Panama, in three separate trains of cars. The first contained the mails, express matter, and the passengers' baggage; the other two were filled with passengers. After proceeding something more than half way to Panama, the engine of the first train ran off the track in such a position that it could not be replaced without a good deal of delay; so the conductors of the passenger trains determined to run back to Ashtabula. We were within about two miles of the place when the terrible crash occurred. I was seated in one of the rear cars, and looking quietly looking out of the window, I could see the cars rushing upon each other until mine in number were completely demolished. Every car was crowded with passengers, containing at least sixty persons each. At present it is impossible to estimate the number of killed and wounded, or their names, but there were not less than 500 persons in the cars that were shivered to atoms, and it must be a low estimate to say that 50 were killed, and at least 100 more badly wounded; and it seems almost miraculous that so many escaped with their lives.

At the last advices the wreck had not been entirely cleared out. There were very few families or children injured. Among the wounded and killed were a number of the brakemen. The only name given is that of Mr. Dalhoume, a clerk to Aspinwall, who was killed.

The passengers were mostly those who went out in the steerage.

NEW ORLEANS, May 16.—The recognition of Padre Vigil by the President, as Minister from Nicaragua, has given an impetus to the Nicaraguan fever. The South is alive in consequence. The steamship Daniel Webster, which will probably sail on the 22d inst., from this port, will have plenty of recruits.

HALLOWELL AND BOSTON OUTSIDE ROUTE.—The fast steamer Eastern City, which last year ran on the Eastport route, is to take the place of the Governor, which has been sold, and is to be withdrawn from the route.

Launched from the ship yard of Isaac Cook Jr., Ellsworth, the schooner D. Lester, one hundred and sixty tons, burthen, built of the best materials copper fastened, owned by Messrs Cooks & J. W. Wood & Co., and to be commanded by Capt. Reuben Elder of Trenton.

GREAT

American and Foreign Office,

—FOR—

Securing Patents for Inventions.

AGENCY OR BUSINESS WITH THE U S PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State Street, opposite Kilby St., BOSTON

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The subscriber, (late Agent of the U S Patent Office under the Act of 1837,) determined to secure advantages in applying for patents to those offered inventors by other agencies, has, therefore, on application, been appointed and conducted by him THIRTY (instead of twenty, as paid back for others,) years, and the withdrawal, through which he will be entitled to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal, through thirty days after the rejection

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by any not in any way superior to any which can be offered elsewhere The testimonials below given prove that no one is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT PRESENT OBTAINING PATENTS THAN THE SUBSCRIBER IN THE BEST PROOF OF HIS QUALIFICATIONS AND ABILITY he would add that he has the most abundant reason to believe, and can state that no other office of the kind are charges for professional services so moderate—a practice of the subscriber during the past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works and full copies of patents granted in the United States and in Europe, render him able, beyond question or dispute, to procure patents in the shortest time and on the most reasonable terms.

Caveats and the necessary papers and drawings, and all Patent business connected with the procuring of patents and advice in all matters respecting patents, inventions, infringements, and all Patent business transacted with the utmost promptness and fidelity, and on the most reasonable terms. Models must be forwarded to the subscriber when practicable. Where models cannot be forwarded, the inventor must furnish a full and exact description of his invention, and forward a drawing of the same. The price of drawing varies from one dollar to five dollars, according to the complexity of the case.

Patents are procured in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, through agents of the highest respectability

R H EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

TESTIMONIALS.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, I became acquainted with R H EDDY, Esq., of Boston, and had business at the Patent Office with him. He was then employed as Solicitor for procuring Patents. These were performed in a faithful and accurate manner, and were conducted in the most skilful, and in the most careful manner, so much so, that I have no hesitation in recommending him to those who may have occasion to employ a person of skill and integrity, and who possesses the requisite qualifications for conducting applications for patents with promptness and dispatch. I have also been acquainted with the manner in which he conducted business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted their business with more skill and fidelity, and success. Mr Eddy was one of the best informed and most efficient Solicitors in the United States and can safely recommend to inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and in procuring their applications in a form to secure early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

"I was in the office of the Commissioner of Patents during the whole of the year 1855—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents R H Eddy, Esq of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business at this office, and Solicitor He is thoroughly acquainted with the rules and practice of the office, and has one of the most capable and efficient persons with whom I have had official intercourse

if not from premature decay, can rely on a speedy cure by using the Compound Buchu Many of the most eminent Physicians of the day are using it in their practice, in preference to any other preparation known to the faculty, as it is found to be more speedy in its effects, and less liable to change in any climate, and in any diet, than any other preparation of Buchu

Secret Diseases

It contains no mercury, nor any of the minerals, but is purely vegetable, and is the most powerful diuretic known, acting directly upon the urinary organs, and is especially recommended for all diseases of that character, whether existing in a male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. Even after the use of Mercury has caused the bones to become diseased, and the flesh to waste away, and the constitution to be hopelessly shattered, this remedy is to be relied upon with the most implicit confidence. It purifies the blood, and thoroughly eradicates every vestige of the disease, and the patient is left as healthy as before the attack. Pain and inflammation soon yield to its influence, and examination into its merits will convince the most skeptical of its superiority over all other remedies in use. Thousands who have been drugged for years with Mercury, Copaiba, Sarsaparilla, and Buchu, and who have been given up as incurable, have been restored to perfect health by the use of this remedy alone.

Urinary Diseases

With the most perfect confidence we recommend this remedy to all who are afflicted with any of the following diseases, and we warrant a cure in every instance, when the directions are strictly complied with, and the medicine taken according to the printed instructions which accompany each bottle. Many of the diseases named below are the result of the use of Mercury, and other poisonous drugs, and will thus prevent all evil consequences arising from the use of such dangerous remedies.

Directions for Use

These medicines require considerable care in the preparation and the employment of the proper menstrua in successive operations to separate the extractive matters, and in order to prevent the frequently improperly made and prepared articles from being much impaired, if not rendered useless, by the injudicious and unskillful manner in which they are chosen and unacquainted with pharmaceutical operations. It is therefore of the highest importance to the public and to the reputation of the medicine that there should be a standard preparation of uniform strength and possessing the most valuable properties. To effect this and confer the essential benefit upon the afflicted, we have made a number of experiments to ascertain the most effectual mode of extracting the virtues of the Sarsaparilla and the Buchu and combine them so that they can be used with the most convenience and certainty of effecting a cure. The experiments have resulted in the discovery of a process by which we obtain all the virtues of the Sarsaparilla and Buchu, and the faculty my Compound Fluid Extracts which contain all the virtues of the medicines in a concentrated form, and are the most powerful preparations which can be made from these roots. Each fluid ounce of the Extract Sarsaparilla is equivalent to a gallon of the decoction made from the crude root, and the Fluid Extract Buchu is equal to the Lisbon diet drink, and each bottle of the fully equals in strength a gallon of the Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla or decoction made therefrom.
